Outdoor programs

Whether you're looking for a bit of action or some peace and quiet, we've got you covered. What do you feel like doing? Whether it's a romantic stroll in the flower-lined, touristy downtown; watching a theatrical performance within the ancient walls of the 600-year-old brick castle; enjoying the healing thermal waters of the Castle Baths, indulging in a refreshing ice cream on the terrace of the 100-year-old confectionery; or taking a relaxing bike ride, Gyula has it all. Centuries of history; the heritage of Ferenc Erkel; the Almásy; and the Wenckheim families; the natural wonders of the Körös Valley with its flavours, scents, and flowers await you with a warm hospitality when you visit us.

Explore the city

The Gyula Castle Spa is one of the main attractions of Gyula. It boasts 5,500 m<sup>2</sup> of water surface and a total of 23 pools. The 72 °C (alkaline- hydrocarbonate-chloride) thermal water, which springs up from a depth of 2005 metres, is particularly effective for alleviating degenerative disorders, and some chronic neurological, inflammatory and gynaecological problems.

AquaPalace, an indoor pool complex. It has been operating since 2013 and is open all year round. AquaPalace is a good choice for those seeking an adrenaline rush, as well as for those who visit the spa for adventure and are not afraid of slides or diving pools. The facility covers an area of more than 6000 square metres and has countless pool features, including a variety of slides; a 3.5 metre diving pool; fountain bubblers; waterfalls; an illuminated water slide tunnel; and a lazy river ride.

Children will also be able to relax and enjoy their visit, as there are separate play areas for families with children of all ages: there are both children and baby pools. While the children splash around or test their courage on the "deep-water trampoline," adults can relax in the water bar or enjoy the new sauna world. The baby-momma corner is a tranquil area where the little ones who need care and relaxation can retreat from the busier sections.

Castle

The Gyula Castle was built in the 15th century and is now the only flatland brick castle in Central and Eastern Europe that is still intact. The castle is situated in a beautiful park and there is a lovely boating pond in front of it. Within the ancient walls of the castle there is an exceptional museum with 24 exhibition rooms that tell the history of almost seven centuries. The rooms include a dungeon, torture room, workshops, kitchen, pantry, a Lady's Room, the Knights' Hall, a Chapel, and other residential areas. There is a beautiful view of the city from the lookout tower. On a clear day you can admire the Bihar Mountains of neighbouring Romania from this vantage point. The castle was built by János Maróti and its extension is the legacy of János Corvin, the son of the great Hungarian king, Matthias. It was he, who had the cannon tower (rondella aka Corvin Bastion) built.

The Almásy Mansion Visitor Centre of Gyula

The Almásy Mansion is the first one in Hungary to host a theatrical play in as early as 1746. Several generations of the Erkel family held recitals here, and Ferenc Erkel composed parts of several of his operas in the park of the Almásy Palace. Ten of the thirteen martyrs of Arad laid down their arms here. It was here that Mihály Munkácsy first became acquainted with the art of painting. The exhibition uses state-of-the-art interactive technology to reveal fascinating details and secrets of the daily lives of the aristocrats and staff who once lived here. The Almásy Mansion Visitor Centre in Gyula was ranked among the 40 best museums in Europe in 2018.

Erkel Ferenc Memorial House

The School of Németygula and the teacher's house were built in 1795. In 1821 the house that served as a school and home for the teachers' families was extended to provide an additional classroom. The wing of the house facing the square accommodated the school, while the one facing Ajtóssy Street was the teacher's residence. The part of the house designated for the school deteriorated considerably in the winter of 1829–1830 and partially collapsed. Subsequently, the house in its current form was rebuilt by Mihály Nuszbeek at the end of 1830. The teachers' house, which was also home to the choirmaster of the town at that time, acquired its final Neoclassical form after a renovation that took place in 1830. A teacher named József Erkel arrived from Bratislava in 1806. He lived and taught in this school until 1841. József Erkel had a son born in this house on 7 November in 1810.

Most important festival

The border fortress days of Gyula

Held since 1955, the border fortress days of Gyula is an event that recalls the siege of Gyula Castle in 1566 with traditional presentations, historical performances, children's programs and concerts. This event is one of the most spectacular war games in our country, where visitors can learn about the life of the castle valiants, the history of the castle and its surroundings, the legends of their heroic defenders, and the lives of the defenders and besiegers. Traditionalist associations in the castle and in the Castle Garden present the 16th century era with decorations, costumes, weapons and combat techniques. The event offers many programs not only for people interested in history, but also for families, children and young people.

Children can play on the playgrounds in the castle and in the Castle Garden, participate in handicrafts, falconry and blacksmith workshop demonstrations, while young people are welcomed with music concerts. The border fortress days of Gyula is therefore an event where history and entertainment are connected, and where visitors can relive the memory of the heroes of Gyula Castle.

Konyhánkban tojást, tejet, lisztet, valamint különböző mogyoró- és dióféléket használunk, így a keresztszenyeződés lehetőségét 100%-os bizonyossággal nem tudjuk kizárni. Ennek következtében étелеink nyomokban tartalmazhatnak allergéneket.

In our kitchen, we use eggs, milk, flour, as well as various types of nuts, including peanuts and tree nuts. Therefore, we cannot completely rule out the possibility of cross-contamination with 100% certainty. As a result, our dishes may contain traces of allergens.
